MEASUREMENT BOOK

- The measurement book must be looked upon as a most Important record, since it is the basis of all accounts of quantities, whether of work done by daily labour, or by the piece-work or by contract, or of materials received which have to be counted or measured. The description of the work must be such as to admit of easy indentification and check Before the book is brought into use the pages should be examined and any serious defect such as the tearing off or the substitution of pages brought to notice at once. A certificate of verification of the pages of the measurement Book in the inside of cover should be signed by the official receiving the measurement book with his designation and date.
2. All entries in measurement books should, if possible, be made in ink If this is not possible, they should at least be written in indelible pencil The entries in the 'Contents' or area column should however always be made in ink in the first instance and not inked over.
 3. Detailed measurements should be recorded only by Executive or Assistant Engineers or by Executive subordinates specially authorised, to whom Measurement books have been supplied for the purpose
 4. All measurements should be neatly entered directly in the measurement book is used for he purpose and no where else.
 5. At the head of each set of measurements there should be entries starting

[I] In the case of bills for work done :

- (a) Full names of work as given in the estimate agreement.
- (b) Situation of work.
- (c) Name of contractor.
- (d) No. and date of agreements/work order.
- (e) Date of measurement
- (f) Final or Running Contract Certificate No.
- (g) Reference to previous bill : Page No.
- (h) Book No.

[II] In the case of bills for supply of materials :

- (a) Name of Supplier.
- (b) No. and date of agreement order.
- (c) Name of work for which supply is made.
- (d) Date of measurement.

A suitable abstract should then be prepared which should collect, in the case of measurement for work done, the total quantities of each distinct item of work relating to each sanctioned sub-head.

6. (a) As all payments for work or supplier must be based on the quantities recorded in the measurement book, it is incumbent upon the person taking the measurement to record the quantities clearly and accurately :
 - (b) If the measurement are taking in connection with a running contract account on which work has been previously measured, he should enter (i) reference to the last set of measurements (ii) where the entire job or contract has been completed, this fact prominently and the end of the measurements.

7. Entries should be recorded continuously in the measurement book No blank page me be left and no page turnout. Any page left blanks inadvertently must cancelled by diagonal lines, the cancellation being attested. No entry should be erased or effaced so as to be illegible. If a mistake be made, it should be corrected be crossing out the incorrect words or figures and re-writing the correct words or figures and the corrections thus made should be initialled. When any measurements are cancelled, the cancellation, must be supported by the dated initials of the officer ordering the cancellation, or by a reference to his order initialled by the officer who made the measurements. In either case, the reason for cancellation should be recorded. A reliable recorded is the object to be aimed at as it may have to produced as evidence in a Court of law.
8. No lines may be left blank Any lines not required should be carefully crossed out in order to prevent additional entries being made afterwards. The total brought forward from the previous page of a measurement book should be entered above the top line : similarly, the total at the foot of each page should be entered below the bottom line.
9. Each measurement book should be provided with an index which should be kept up-to-date.
10. The Signature of the contractor or his agent should be obtained in measurement books after each set of measurements with the addition I. accept all measurement' In the case of illiterate men, their mark should be attested by one independent witness.
11. Copying into measurement books from a note book or other source is strictly prohibitee. All measurements in a measurement book must be an actual record of work or supplies measured at the time of entry in the measurement book. Measurements from one page of measurement book should not be copied into another.
12. The figures in the 'contents' column for items the units of which in the Schedule of rates are 1000 or 100, should be calculated to the nerrest whole number any fraction below half being dropped and half and above being taken as one. For items, the units, the figures in the contents' column should be calculated to two places of decimals Assistant Engineers are responsible for the correctness of the entries in the 'contents' column of Measurement books
13. Check-measurements should be noted in measurement books, the item actually check measured being distinguished by the initial of the checking officer on the left side of the column Particulars' in line with the items checkmeasured.
14. From the measurement books all quantities should be clearly trackable in the documents on which payments are made When a bill is prepared for work or supplies made a remarks to the effect.
