41.1 SALIENT PROVISIONS OF CONTRACT LABOUR (REGULATION & ABOLITION) ACT, 1970

A. The Act applies to every establishment in which twenty* or more workmen are employed or were employed any day in the preceding twelve months, as contract labour (* in some states five or more workmen)

B .CONTRACTOR

1. In relation to an establishment, means a person who undertakes to produce a given result for the establishment, other than a mere supply of goods or articles of manufacture to such establishment, through contract labour (OR)

2. Who supplies contract labour for any work of the establishment and includes a subcontractor.

C." Establishment " means

i. any office or department of the Government or a local authority, or

ii. any place where any industry, trade, business, manufacture or occupation is carried on

D." Principal Employer " means:

in any other establishment, any person responsible for the supervision and control of the establishment.

E." Workmen " means:

Any person employed in or in connection with the work of any establishment to do any skilled, semi-skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work for hire or reward, whether the terms of employment be expressed or implied.

F .Notes - "Contractor " - The definition of the expression contractor has two wings. One is in relation to the establishment in which he contracts to supply labour on contract and another in relation to the contractor himself. Any contractor whose work is to supply contract labour for any work in any establishment, including a sub-contractor will be governed by the Act, provided he is employing twenty or more persons.

G .An establishment engaged in construction work or manufacturing process might either employ labour through a contractor or it might entrust the execution of the work itself to a contractor who will employ his own workmen.

H The usual test is whether the employer has control over the labour and actual execution of the work.

I In all other establishments the person in the control of the establishment will be the Principal Employer. The importance of the definition of the Principal Employer lies in the fact that it is he who engages the contract labour and who is made responsible for due observance and discharge by the contractor of the duties and obligations enjoyed on him by the Act.

J Liability of principal employer in certain cases (Section - 20)
